Agrarian Daily Prayer

"The purpose of prayer is not to get God to do what we think God ought to do. The purpose of prayer is to be properly formed." – Brian Zahnd

Introduction to Prayer

The Bible is one large, diverse, dynamic metanarrative – a huge story that takes us from creation, to fall, to the cross, to redemption. As Christians, it is the primary tool we have for learning to pray. Prayer puts us into that story and enlightens us to see what God is doing and to align our lives to His goodness. Prayer takes us into the story of God and teaches us to live.

However, this story doesn't come to us free and easy. We are immersed in many, many stories: the world, history, politics, our local communities, advertising, our families, and even our own personal stories (the ones that are true and the ones we tell ourselves). Our lives are full of the static of competing narratives. We'll never sort through all of this in quick, spiritual sound bites. Prayer forms us as we are formed in life – the slow, daily, grind of discipline. Discipline intentionally removes us from the rapid ebb and flow of our emotions and the blaring noise of other stories and into the predictable, stable rhythms of God's Word.

But we don't undertake this discipline alone. Rarely does discipline take hold when we set off by ourselves. We might pray for a short spell, but it almost certainly gets washed away in the demands of our lives - unless we know that we are joined by "a great cloud of witnesses." Prayer is fundamentally a communal activity; Jesus taught us to pray "Our Father." So we find a way to pray together.

Daily prayer puts the same words, the same story, the same discipline in all our mouths, our minds, and our hearts. We are all shaped into the same story and drawn together into a real community, with shared perspectives, values, and commitments. But we all bring our own selves to it, which means it will shape each of us uniquely. Communal prayer doesn't erase our individuality, but rather strengthens it into something more than ego. This is the work of the Holy Spirit. Only by the Spirit's work are we formed into a community and into our unique selves at the same time.

There are many excellent forms of prayer that can help us enter the story of God. So why create another one? We're glad you asked. This is Agrarian Daily Prayer. The unique purpose of this order of prayer is to show us the story of God who is the maker of Heaven and Earth and who walks this land with us. The Bible reveals God who “became flesh and dwelt among us,” God who redeems us and resurrects us in body and spirit, God who comes to us in the everyday elements of water, bread, and wine. From the creation of the world, to the promise of land and its role in salvation, to the Incarnation, to the salvation of the entire cosmos, we want to enter into a story of salvation that involves and includes the stuff we can taste, touch, and feel.

The Basic Structure of Prayer

Part 1 - The Parts that Don't Change.

We recognize that some parts of Scripture have shaped us in really important ways. Think of your favorite scripture passages: John 3:16, Psalm 23, “I know the plans I have for you,” etc. These passages of Scripture are the foundation for our spirituality, and we return to them often for comfort and perspective. In prayer, we do well to build in some foundational passages that we can return to regularly. Regular repetition moves the message of Scripture from our minds to our hearts. In our efforts to have an agrarian faith, the repeating passages we've chosen have agrarian themes, that speak to the salvation of the entire cosmos, remind us of the inherent goodness of creation and God's love and faithfulness to it. If we are going to be agrarian disciples, we've got to be regularly in touch with God who meets us in the soil of our lives.

For generations, the psalms have been the backbone of Christian prayer. In them is every emotion known to humanity, and yet in them is the response of God. In ancient times, it wasn't unusual to memorize the entire Psalter as training for prayer. We won't do that, but we have chosen some basic psalms that will begin moving the story of God from our brains to our hearts.

The other tool we regularly use is called a “canticle.” These are scriptural songs or poetry that remind us of the stories of God's people. They are important supports for the praying of the psalms, and we have carefully selected a few, that they might become our songs.

Part 2 - The Parts That Do Change.

If we know the power of deep-rooted passages of Scripture, we also want to acknowledge and avoid the myopia of basing an entire belief system on a few favorite passages. We've all watched people throw Bible verses at one another without compassion, as if one verse settled any single issue. When we only allow certain passages to speak to us we often find ourselves worshipping a God of our own making. We do best when we are shaped by the entire ecosystem of the Bible, revealing a God much larger than our assumptions and a God who surprises us with His goodness and generosity. While daily prayer isn't designed to touch every passage of Scripture, we can expand our vision of what God is doing. In particular, we'd like these portions to help shape how we understand God's work at K&T, so we've chosen some themes for you to work through.

Week 1 - Ecology. What is God doing in all of creation? How does God relate to the cosmos – galaxies, gardens, meerkats and monsoons?

Week 2 - Community. How is God present in our neighborhood and in our land? What is God's plan for the local community of the faithful?

Week 3 - Prayer. How does God work in my life? Where is God leading me as a disciple?

Week 4 - The Eucharist. We believe this is the center of all of Christianity, the place where we meet Christ and the cross most intimately. What happens when we come to the cross? What does it mean to be "saved?"

We do not propose that we are exploring every aspect of God, but we believe that these themes will help shape us into agrarian disciples and a faithful agrarian community. By both establishing a rhythm of regular passages and journeying along the changing landscape of Scripture's contours, we hope to do the deep work of spiritual formation.

Before we go on to practical instructions, I want to give you a warning. This WILL get boring. There will be days when it seems completely useless. There are days when it will not stir our hearts at all. There will be days when everything on our calendar will scream at us with more urgency and importance than these few minutes of "nothing." That's how those other stories work – they don't tell a better story, just a louder one. So we must persevere if we are to live that better story. Anglican priest and spiritual director Martin Thornton offers some practical encouragement:

We must re-learn the essential truth that Christian Prayer is rather like cleaning a car. When we are lucky enough to have a new one we wash and polish away with enthusiastic fervor, it is a devotional job. When the novelty wears off it becomes rather a nuisance and a bore, but we can still clean it efficiently, and here is the one vital point; there is no difference whatever in the result. It is exactly the same with prayer.” (Christian Proficiency, 4)

Outline for Agrarian Daily Prayer

Introductory Prayer - a simple and direct prayer for God’s help. It puts in our mouths the truth that God – the One who made it all – hears our prayer and is with us. Having assured ourselves of God’s listening ear, we remind ourselves of the whole story – the God of Abraham, the God of Israel, the God of Jesus; it is to this God that we pray.

Psalm of the Day

Canticle

Apostles’ Creed - The creed is a non-biblical statement of faith with deep, penetrating roots in Christian tradition. It reminds us that faith is not created but received, and this statement reminds us of “the faith once delivered to all the saints.” Furthermore, when we approach the Scriptures we want to remind ourselves of the faith in which that Scripture was written and in which we read them. None of us come to the Bible with an empty mind; we all come with a perspective and assumptions. Sometimes that is helpful, sometimes not. We want to learn to read the Scriptures with the faith of our mothers and fathers.

Scripture – Read these slowly, carefully, thoughtfully. We’re not well-practiced in the ways of God, which means we have to slow down, listen clearly, think deeply.

Contemplation – contemplation is the summit of prayer. At its best, contemplation doesn’t seek to do anything. It just wants to be. So just sit with Jesus. Sometimes you’ll want to offer something; so pray. Sometimes you’ll want to hear from Jesus; so sit quietly. Sometimes (maybe, most of the time) you’ll just want to wonder. Imagine the Scriptures as waves on the beach - just let it roll, and listen. If you are having trouble keeping your mind quiet, a simple technique is to remember a word or brief phrase from the reading. Repeat it to yourselves when you find yourself wandering.

Agrarian Daily Prayer

Beatitudes – Having heard from God, we prepare to respond with our own prayers. As we prepare for intercessory prayer, we want to ready ourselves to pray like Jesus. The most important statement of the values, morals, and perspectives of Jesus is the Beatitudes. In reciting this, we tune our heart to the heart of Jesus.

Intercessory Prayer – whatever is on your heart, let it out. But given the process we've gone through, there's a good chance that we'll have changed. Rather than our prayers being self-centered, emotionally driven, and spiritually iffy, hopefully we're at a point where they are shaped by the narrative of God, the values of Jesus, and a faith that indeed looks towards a coming Kingdom. But don't worry too much about whether it is right or wrong to pray for something. If it is on your heart, God knows already. Just offer it.

Lord's Prayer - When all our prayer is exhausted, we do well to remember that there is much we haven't prayed for. There are things that matter to God that don't yet register with us. So we train in prayer daily by tracing the letters and prayers of Jesus. Whatever we may have forgotten or undervalued, is set right here in the prayer that Jesus gives us. The challenge here is to "pray it like a monk" – slowly, thoughtfully.

Closing Prayer – an expression of our unworthiness, God's infinite love, our responsibility for thanks, and a request that we would spend this day in the service of God.

Praying in Groups

You'll want to find opportunities to pray with small groups of people. Perhaps it's a family prayer time, or a small group, or even just you and a friend out for coffee. We've put some cues in the prayer to help you with that. First, pick someone to "lead" prayer. The only role for this person is that if you aren't sure who should read, let the leader do it! Make sure you change the leader if you meet in a group regularly.

You'll notice that each section is broken up into paragraphs or "chunks." All you need to do is pass the reading around from person to person. This is a helpful practice – it lets us participate and listen deeply at the same time, and to hear the Word of God from other voices. Lines printed in bold should be said in unison. And above all, don't worry about doing it "right." Prayer is not a test to be graded, but a time to be with God and with one another. So feel free to adapt it to suit the needs of your group. Want to pray the Lord's Prayer together? Do it! The important thing is to pray.

Agrarian Daily Prayer

And we conclude with a prayer from us for you, written by hymnist Clara Scott:

*Silently now I wait for Thee, Ready my God, Thy will to see,
Open my eyes, illumine me,
Spirit divine!*

Week IV

Sunday Morning Prayer

God, come to my assistance.

Lord, make haste to help me.

Our help is in the name of the Lord

Who made heaven and earth.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit;

As it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Father God, Creator of heaven and earth,

God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob,

God of Israel,

God and Father of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ,

True and Living God who is Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,

Have mercy and hear our prayer.

Psalm of the Day: Psalm 100

Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth!

Serve the Lord with gladness!

Come into his presence with singing!

Know that the Lord, he is God!

It is he who made us, and we are his;

we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Enter his gates with thanksgiving, and his courts with praise!

Give thanks to him; bless his name!

For the Lord is good;

his steadfast love endures forever,

and his faithfulness to all generations.

Agrarian Daily Prayer

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Canticle: Exodus 15:1-2, 6-11, 17-18

"I will sing to the Lord, for he has triumphed gloriously;
the horse and his rider he has thrown into the sea.

The Lord is my strength and my song,
and he has become my salvation;
this is my God, and I will praise him,
my father's God, and I will exalt him.

Your right hand, O Lord, glorious in power,
your right hand, O Lord, shatters the enemy.
In the greatness of your majesty you overthrow your adversaries;
you send out your fury; it consumes them like stubble.

At the blast of your nostrils the waters piled up;
the floods stood up in a heap;
the deeps congealed in the heart of the sea.

The enemy said, 'I will pursue, I will overtake,
I will divide the spoil, my desire shall have its fill of them.
I will draw my sword; my hand shall destroy them.'

You blew with your wind; the sea covered them;
they sank like lead in the mighty waters.

"Who is like you, O Lord, among the gods?
Who is like you, majestic in holiness, awesome in glorious deeds, doing wonders?"

You will bring them in and plant them on your own mountain, the place, O Lord, which you have made for your abode,
the sanctuary, O Lord, which your hands have established.

Agrarian Daily Prayer

The Lord will reign forever and ever.”

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord.
He was conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit
and born of the Virgin Mary.
He suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died, and was buried.
He descended to the dead.
On the third day he rose again.
He ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and the life everlasting. Amen.

Scripture Reading: Luke 24:13-33

That very day two of them were going to a village named Emmaus, about seven miles[a] from Jerusalem, and they were talking with each other about all these things that had happened. While they were talking and discussing together, Jesus himself drew near and went with them. But their eyes were kept from recognizing him. And he said to them, “What is this conversation that you are holding with each other as you walk?” And they stood still, looking sad. Then one of them, named Cleopas, answered him, "Are you the only visitor to Jerusalem who does not know the things that have happened there in these days?" And he said to them, "What things?" And they said to him, "Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, a man who was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people, and how our chief priests and rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. But we had hoped that he was the one to redeem Israel. Yes, and besides all this, it is now the third day since these things happened. Moreover, some women of our company amazed us. They were at the tomb early in the morning, and when they did not find his body, they came back saying that they had even seen a vision of angels, who said that he was alive. Some of those who were with us went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said, but him they did not see." And he said to them, "O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! Was it not necessary that the Christ should suffer these things and enter into his glory?" And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he interpreted to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself.

So they drew near to the village to which they were going. He acted as if he were going farther, but they urged him strongly, saying, "Stay with us, for it is toward evening and the day is now far spent." So he went in to stay with them. When he was at table with them, he took the bread and blessed and broke it and gave it to them. And their eyes were opened, and they recognized him. And he vanished from their sight. They said to each other, "Did not our hearts burn within us while he talked to us on the road, while he opened to us the Scriptures?" And they rose that same hour and returned to Jerusalem.

The Beatitudes

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.

"Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied.

"Blessed are the merciful, for they shall receive mercy.

"Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God.

"Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Agrarian Daily Prayer

"Blessed are you when others revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

Intercessory Prayer

Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth, as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread,
and forgive us of our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.
And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.
For yours is the Kingdom, the power, and the glory, forever and ever. Amen.

Closing Prayer

Almighty God, Father of all mercies, we your unworthy servants give you humble thanks for all your goodness and loving kindness to us and to all whom you have made. We bless you for our creation, preservation, and all the blessings of this life; but above all for your immeasurable love in the redemption of the world by our Lord Jesus Christ; for the means of grace, and for the hope of glory. And, we pray, give us such an awareness of your mercies, that with truly thankful hearts we may show forth your praise, not only with our lips, but in our lives, by giving up ourselves to your service, and by walking before you in holiness and righteousness all our days; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

May the Lord bless us, protect us from all evil, and bring us to everlasting life. Amen.

Psalm of the Day: Psalm 95

Oh come, let us sing to the Lord;
let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation!

Let us come into his presence with thanksgiving;
let us make a joyful noise to him with songs of praise!
For the Lord is a great God,
and a great King above all gods.

In his hand are the depths of the earth;
the heights of the mountains are his also.
The sea is his, for he made it,
and his hands formed the dry land.

Oh come, let us worship and bow down;
let us kneel before the Lord, our Maker!
For he is our God,
and we are the people of his pasture,
and the sheep of his hand.

Today, if you hear his voice,
do not harden your hearts, as at Meribah,
as on the day at Massah in the wilderness,
when your fathers put me to the test and put me to the proof, though they had seen my work.

For forty years I loathed that generation and said, "They are a people who go astray in their heart, and they have not known my ways."
Therefore I swore in my wrath,
"They shall not enter my rest."

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Canticle: Micah 4:1-5

It shall come to pass in the latter days that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established as the highest of the mountains, and it shall be lifted up above the hills;
and peoples shall flow to it,

and many nations shall come, and say:
"Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord,
to the house of the God of Jacob,
that he may teach us his ways
and that we may walk in his paths."

For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.
He shall judge between many peoples,
and shall decide disputes for strong nations far away;

and they shall beat their swords into plowshares,
and their spears into pruning hooks;
nation shall not lift up sword against nation,
neither shall they learn war anymore;

Agrarian Daily Prayer

but they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree, and no one shall make them afraid,
for the mouth of the Lord of hosts has spoken.

For all the peoples walk
each in the name of its god, but we will walk in the name of the Lord our God forever and ever.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Scripture Reading: Exodus 16:2-12

And the whole congregation of the people of Israel grumbled against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness, and the people of Israel said to them, "Would that we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the meat pots and ate bread to the full, for you have brought us out into this wilderness to kill this whole assembly with hunger." Then the Lord said to Moses, "Behold, I am about to rain bread from heaven for you, and the people shall go out and gather a day's portion every day, that I may test them, whether they will walk in my law or not. On the sixth day, when they prepare what they bring in, it will be twice as much as they gather daily." So Moses and Aaron said to all the people of Israel, "At evening you shall know that it was the Lord who brought you out of the land of Egypt, and in the morning you shall see the glory of the Lord, because he has heard your grumbling against the Lord. For what are we, that you grumble against us?" And Moses said, "When the Lord gives you in the evening meat to eat and in the morning bread to the full, because the Lord has heard your grumbling that you grumble against him—what are we? Your grumbling is not against us but against the Lord." Then Moses said to Aaron, "Say to the whole congregation of the people of Israel, 'Come near before the Lord, for he has heard your grumbling.'" And as soon as Aaron spoke to the whole congregation of the people of Israel, they looked toward the wilderness, and behold, the glory of the Lord appeared in the cloud. And the Lord said to Moses, "I have heard the grumbling of the people of Israel. Say to them, 'At twilight you shall eat meat, and in the morning you shall be filled with bread. Then you shall know that I am the Lord your God.'"

Psalm of the Day: Psalm 8

O Lord, our Lord,

how majestic is your name in all the earth!

You have set your glory above the heavens.

Out of the mouth of babies and infants,

you have established strength because of your foes,

to still the enemy and the avenger.

When I look at your heavens, the work of your fingers,

the moon and the stars, which you have set in place,

what is man that you are mindful of him, and the son of man that you care for him?

Yet you have made him a little lower than the heavenly beings and crowned him with glory and honor.

You have given him dominion over the works of your hands;

you have put all things under his feet,

all sheep and oxen,

and also the beasts of the field,

the birds of the heavens, and the fish of the sea,

Scripture Reading: Proverbs 9:1-6, 10-12

Wisdom has built her house; she has hewn her seven pillars. She has slaughtered her beasts; she has mixed her wine; she has also set her table. She has sent out her young women to call from the highest places in the town, "Whoever is simple, let him turn in here!" To him who lacks sense she says, "Come, eat of my bread and drink of the wine I have mixed. Leave your simple ways, and live, and walk in the way of insight." The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and the knowledge of the Holy One is insight. For by me your days will be multiplied, and years will be added to your life. If you are wise, you are wise for yourself; if you scoff, you alone will bear it.

Lord's Prayer

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth, as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread,
and forgive us of our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.
And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.
For yours is the Kingdom, the power, and the glory, forever and ever. Amen.

Closing Prayer

Almighty God, Father of all mercies, we your unworthy servants give you humble thanks for all your goodness and loving kindness to us and to all whom you have made. We bless you for our creation, preservation, and all the blessings of this life; but above all for your immeasurable love in the redemption of the world by our Lord Jesus Christ; for the means of grace, and for the hope of glory. And, we pray, give us such an awareness of your mercies, that with truly thankful hearts we may show forth your praise, not only with our lips, but in our lives, by giving up ourselves to your service, and by walking before you in holiness and righteousness all our days; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, now and forever.

May the Lord bless us, protect us from all evil, and bring us to everlasting life. Amen.

Wednesday Morning Prayer

God, come to my assistance.
Lord, make haste to help me.
Our help is in the name of the Lord

Agrarian Daily Prayer

Who made heaven and earth.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit;
As it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Father God, Creator of heaven and earth,
God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob,
God of Israel,
God and Father of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ,
True and Living God who is Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,
Have mercy and hear our prayer.

Psalm of the Day: Psalm 29

Ascribe to the Lord, O heavenly beings, ascribe to the Lord glory and strength.
Ascribe to the Lord the glory of his name;
worship the Lord in holy splendor.

The voice of the Lord is over the waters;
the God of glory thunders,
the Lord, over mighty waters.

The voice of the Lord is powerful;
the voice of the Lord is full of majesty.
The voice of the Lord breaks the cedars;
the Lord breaks the cedars of Lebanon.

He makes Lebanon skip like a calf,
and Sirion like a young wild ox.
The voice of the Lord flashes forth flames of fire.

The voice of the Lord shakes the wilderness;
the Lord shakes the wilderness of Kadesh.
The voice of the Lord causes the oaks to whirl,
and strips the forest bare;
and in his temple all say, "Glory!"

Agrarian Daily Prayer

The Lord sits enthroned over the flood;
the Lord sits enthroned as king forever.

May the Lord give strength to his people!
May the Lord bless his people with peace!

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Canticle: from Job 39

“Do you know when the mountain goats give birth?
Do you observe the calving of the does?
Can you number the months that they fulfill,
and do you know the time when they give birth,

when they crouch to give birth to their offspring,
and are delivered of their young?
Their young ones become strong, they grow up in the open;
they go out and do not return to them.

“Is the wild ox willing to serve you?
Will it spend the night at your manger?
Can you bind it in the furrow with ropes,
or will it harrow the valleys after you?

Will you depend on it because its strength is great,
and will you leave to him your labor?
Do you have faith in it that it will return your grain and gather it to your threshing floor?

“Is it by your understanding that the hawk soars,
and spreads its wings toward the south?
Is it at your command that the eagle mounts up and makes its nest on high?

On the rock it dwells and makes its home in the rocky crag and stronghold.
From there it spies out the prey;
its eyes behold it from far away.
Its young ones suck up blood;
and where the slain are, there it is.”

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord.
He was conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit
and born of the Virgin Mary.
He suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died, and was buried.
He descended to the dead.
On the third day he rose again.
He ascended into heaven,

the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and the life everlasting. Amen.

Scripture Reading: John 6:35-51

Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life; whoever comes to me shall not hunger, and whoever believes in me shall never thirst. But I said to you that you have seen me and yet do not believe. All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never cast out. For I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will but the will of him who sent me. And this is the will of him who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but raise it up on the last day. For this is the will of my Father, that everyone who looks on the Son and believes in him should have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day."

I am the bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. This is the bread that comes down from heaven, so that one may eat of it and not die. I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. And the bread that I will give for the life of the world is my flesh."

So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. For my flesh is true food, and my blood is true drink. Whoever feeds on my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so whoever feeds on me, he also will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven, not like the bread[c] the fathers ate, and died. Whoever feeds on this bread will live forever." Jesus said these things in the synagogue, as he taught at Capernaum. When many of his disciples heard it, they said, "This is a hard saying; who can listen to it?"

Thursday Morning Prayer

God, come to my assistance.

Agrarian Daily Prayer

Lord, make haste to help me.

Our help is in the name of the Lord

Who made heaven and earth.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit;

As it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Father God, Creator of heaven and earth,

God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob,

God of Israel,

God and Father of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ,

True and Living God who is Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,

Have mercy and hear our prayer.

Psalm of the Day: Psalm 98

Oh sing to the Lord a new song, for he has done marvelous things!
His right hand and his holy arm have worked salvation for him.

The Lord has made known his salvation;
he has revealed his righteousness in the sight of the nations.
He has remembered his steadfast love and faithfulness to the house of Israel.
All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.

Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the earth;
break forth into joyous song and sing praises!
Sing praises to the Lord with the lyre,
with the lyre and the sound of melody!

With trumpets and the sound of the horn make a joyful noise before the King, the Lord!
Let the sea roar, and all that fills it;
the world and those who dwell in it!

Agrarian Daily Prayer

Let the rivers clap their hands;
let the hills sing for joy together before the Lord, for he comes to judge the earth.
He will judge the world with righteousness,
and the peoples with equity.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Canticle: Jeremiah 31:10-14

“Hear the word of the Lord, O nations, and declare it in the coastlands far away;
say, ‘He who scattered Israel will gather him,
and will keep him as a shepherd keeps his flock.’

For the Lord has ransomed Jacob and has redeemed him from hands too strong for him.
They shall come and sing aloud on the height of Zion,
and they shall be radiant over the goodness of the Lord,

over the grain, the wine, and the oil,
and over the young of the flock and the herd;
their life shall be like a watered garden,
and they shall languish no more.

Then shall the young women rejoice in the dance,
and the young men and the old shall be merry.
I will turn their mourning into joy;
I will comfort them, and give them gladness for sorrow.

I will feast the soul of the priests with abundance,
and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, declares the Lord.”

Our help is in the name of the Lord

Who made heaven and earth.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit;

As it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Father God, Creator of heaven and earth,

God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob,

God of Israel,

God and Father of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ,

True and Living God who is Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,

Have mercy and hear our prayer.

Psalm of the Day: Psalm 51

Have mercy on me, O God,
according to your steadfast love;

Agrarian Daily Prayer

according to your abundant mercy blot out my transgressions.

Wash me thoroughly from my iniquity,
and cleanse me from my sin!
For I know my transgressions,
and my sin is ever before me.
Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil in your sight,

so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your judgment.
Behold, I was brought forth in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me.

Behold, you delight in truth in the inward being,
and you teach me wisdom in the secret heart.
Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean;
wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

Let me hear joy and gladness;
let the bones that you have broken rejoice.
Hide your face from my sins,
and blot out all my iniquities.

Create in me a clean heart, O God,
and renew a right spirit within me.
Cast me not away from your presence, and take not your Holy Spirit from me.

Restore to me the joy of your salvation,
and uphold me with a willing spirit.
Then I will teach transgressors your ways,
and sinners will return to you.

Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God,

Agrarian Daily Prayer

O God of my salvation,
and my tongue will sing aloud of your righteousness.
O Lord, open my lips,
and my mouth will declare your praise.

For you will not delight in sacrifice, or I would give it;
you will not be pleased with a burnt offering.
The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit;
a broken and contrite heart, O God, you will not despise.

Do good to Zion in your good pleasure;
build up the walls of Jerusalem;
then will you delight in right sacrifices,
in burnt offerings and whole burnt offerings;
then bulls will be offered on your altar.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Canticle: from Jeremiah 17

Thus says the Lord: “Cursed is the man who trusts in man and makes flesh his strength, whose heart turns away from the Lord.

He is like a shrub in the desert,
and shall not see any good come.
He shall dwell in the parched places of the wilderness,
in an uninhabited salt land.

Blessed is the man who trusts in the Lord,
whose trust is the Lord.
He is like a tree planted by water,
that sends out its roots by the stream,
and does not fear when heat comes,

Agrarian Daily Prayer

for its leaves remain green, and is not anxious in the year of drought,

The heart is deceitful above all things,
and desperately sick;
who can understand it?

“I the Lord search the heart and test the mind,
to give every man according to his ways,
according to the fruit of his deeds.”

Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed;
save me, and I shall be saved,
for you are my praise.

Scripture Reading: John 19:31-37

Since it was the day of Preparation, and so that the bodies would not remain on the cross on the Sabbath (for that Sabbath was a high day), the Jews asked Pilate that their legs might be broken and that they might be taken away. So the soldiers came and broke the legs of the first, and of the other who had been crucified with him. But when they came to Jesus and saw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs. But one of the soldiers pierced his side with a spear, and at once there came out blood and water. He who saw it has borne witness—his testimony is true, and he knows that he is telling the truth—that you also may believe. For these things took place that the Scripture might be fulfilled: “Not one of his bones will be broken.” And again another Scripture says, “They will look on him whom they have pierced.”

Psalm of the Day: Psalm 65

Praise is due to you, O God, in Zion, and to you shall vows be performed.

O you who hear prayer,
to you shall all flesh come.

When iniquities prevail against me,
you atone for our transgressions.

Blessed is the one you choose and bring near,
to dwell in your courts!

We shall be satisfied with the goodness of your house,
the holiness of your temple!

By awesome deeds you answer us with righteousness,
O God of our salvation,
the hope of all the ends of the earth
and of the farthest seas;

the one who by his strength established the mountains,
being girded with might;
who stills the roaring of the seas,
the roaring of their waves,
the tumult of the peoples,

so that those who dwell at the ends of the earth
are in awe at your signs.
You make the going out of the morning and the evening to shout for joy.

You visit the earth and water it;
you greatly enrich it;
the river of God is full of water;
you provide their grain,
for so you have prepared it.

You water its furrows abundantly,
settling its ridges,
softening it with showers,
and blessing its growth.

You crown the year with your bounty;
your wagon tracks overflow with abundance.
The pastures of the wilderness overflow,
the hills gird themselves with joy,

the meadows clothe themselves with flocks,
the valleys deck themselves with grain,
they shout and sing together for joy.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.

Agrarian Daily Prayer

But be glad and rejoice forever
in that which I create;
for behold, I create Jerusalem to be a joy,
and her people to be a gladness.

I will rejoice in Jerusalem and be glad in my people;
no more shall be heard in it the sound of weeping and the cry of distress.

They shall build houses and inhabit them;
they shall plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
They shall not build and another inhabit;
they shall not plant and another eat;
for like the days of a tree shall the days of my people be,
and my chosen shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

They shall not labor in vain or bear children for calamity, for they shall be the offspring of the blessed of the Lord,
and their descendants with them.

Before they call I will answer;
while they are yet speaking I will hear.
The wolf and the lamb shall graze together;
the lion shall eat straw like the ox,
and dust shall be the serpent's food.

They shall not hurt or destroy in all my holy mountain," says the Lord.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be forever. Amen.
